Order dated 5th December 1956.

Under Section 144 of the Crimina Procedure Code.

No. POLSR—144. Whereas the annual fair of "Shri Veerabhadra Dev" is due to be held at Godachi, a village in my jurisdiction from 15th December 1956 to 19th December 1956 (both days inclusive); whereas large number of persons from the different parts in the neighbourhood is likely to congregate for the aforesaid area; whereas it is felt that the assemblage of large number of persons during the said fair is likely to create conditions favourable to the outbreak of an epidemic of Cholera or the spread thereof and it is necessary to take immediate preventive measure against the outbreak or spread of the disease and the safety of the pilgrims and the residents in the said area.

Now, therefore, I, V. S. Navalgund, M.A., Taluka Magistrate, Ramdurg in exercise of the powers conferred on me by Section 144, Cr. P.C. hereby direct as follows that—

1 No person visiting the said fair shall bathe or wash or cleanse or cause to be washed or cleansed his body or that of another or any vehicle carriage, cart or animal or anything whatsoever except in such parts of the naha specially reserved for the purpose by the District Health Officer, Belgaum or his subordinate officer on duty.

2 No person shall ease himself in any place so to cause contamination or risk of contamination of any cistern, or stream reserved for drinking water.

3 No person shall drink or take water for cooking and drinking from any part of the stream except from the perforated drums marked as drinking water.

4 No one shall sell or offer for sale under or over ripe fruits or decaying vegetables and unwholesome articles of food and drink.

5 No person shall urinate or defecate within the limits of the fair area except at the places notified in this behalf by the District Health Officer, Belgaum.

6 No person in charge of the cattle or other animals in the fair area shall throw or remove or deposit dung or cattle rubbish except in the places notified by the District Health Officer, Belgaum.

7 No person shall camp or leave his cart or bullocks except in places reserved for the purpose nor shall he cook his food by the road sides so as to cause nuisance or danger to the passers-by.

8 No person shall slaughter goats and other animals or keep for sale raw fish, meat or flesh within the limits of the fair area.

Any person disobeying the above order will be liable to be prosecuted.

This order shall remain in force from 15th December 1956 to 17th December 1956 (both days inclusive).

Given under my hand and seal this 5th day of December 1956.
